“ Marty, I have known you most of my life. I meet you when I was only 11 years old and you were 14 then. I think it was love at first sight. We started going together. I remember spending time at your house on Saturday. My sister Janie and I would walk to Lincoln Way. We would sit in the bedroom and listen to records. Or we would go outside and all you boys would play touch football. We would go to the park in Lincoln Way. When it was time for Janie and I to go home, your dad would make you walk us home. Which was the Sunrise Trailer park.

I remember a time that my mom and step dad took us all squirrel hunting. There was you, me, my sister Janie and Steve, your youngest brother. Of course Steve and Janie were going together also.

Our families have been close thru the years. My cousin Harry Hoover married your sister Carol.

There have been so many times that our paths have crossed. We seen each other at a Walmart shopping. When Wayne worked for mom at the storage units.

In the last couple of years Janie and Steve are back together. We've seen each other at their house.

Now you are gone...you were my first love and I will always have a special place in my heart for you.
